

The Second Graders at St. John Vianney Catholic School celebrated Holy Week by going on a Progressive Scripture Easter Basket Hunt.

“It was fun going to each classroom and knowing the answers! I even got to ask Father Alfredo questions. He asked me questions too. The best part was the laughing,” said Paige.

At the end of the hunt, the students gathered in small groups to read scripture passages.

“My favorite part was when Fr. Alfredo sat down in our circle and asked us questions,” answered Christian.

The students had to answer questions about Holy Week and at the end of the hunt they found a basket full of treats.

“I liked getting the candy and answering the questions,” said Rachel.

Plastic eggs with Scripture quotes inside taught the students about the events of Holy Week. Megan said, “My favorite scripture was when Jesus broke the bread and shared the wine.”

During Holy Week, students throughout the school also turned in Lenten sacrificial giving boxes. The money collected will be donated to the St. John Vianney St. Vincent de Paul ministry. Food has been donated throughout the year and particularly during Lent due to the high number of needy people seeking assistance from the food pantry.
